

Heritage Solid Oak Door Linings make creating non standard door openings easy

Richard needed to find a way to install solid oak door frames for non standard door sizes

The Customer

Richard Overton spent 10 years working in Saudi Arabia before returning to the UK and making his home in a beautiful house in rural Shropshire.

Richard has been busy completing the building of an oak framed extension himself, despite not being a builder and was looking for oak door frames as part of finishing up the first fix joinery.

Richard had struggled to find good quality oak door linings at sensible prices until he found Heritage.

We'll let Richard take up the story:

I built a substantial oak framed extension myself with the oak frame being constructed by Welsh Oak Frame and I completed the rest of the build myself. I had a little experience but I am not a builder having just returned from working in Saudi Arabia for 10 years.

There is oak available everywhere but I was struggling to find oak door frames at a reasonable price. As soon as you mention oak to suppliers the price seems to jump up.

Heritage door frames were the right size for my larger than normal doors and didn't have any grooves routed in them which was exactly what I wanted.

They also came with the correct trim to finish them off. The oak grain exactly matched my doors which I had handmade.

The ordering process was very easy and delivery was quick and very well packaged. I am very pleased with my purchase and would recommend you to anybody.

I only wish I had found out you supply other quality oak products sooner.

Heritage has solid oak door linings available in 108/132 and 150mm widths to suit all normal applications.
